Operations note

Registration

Open the app, register with your Korean mobile number, and set your login password.

Operations note

- Make sure the number is active and avoid reusing passwords from other platforms.

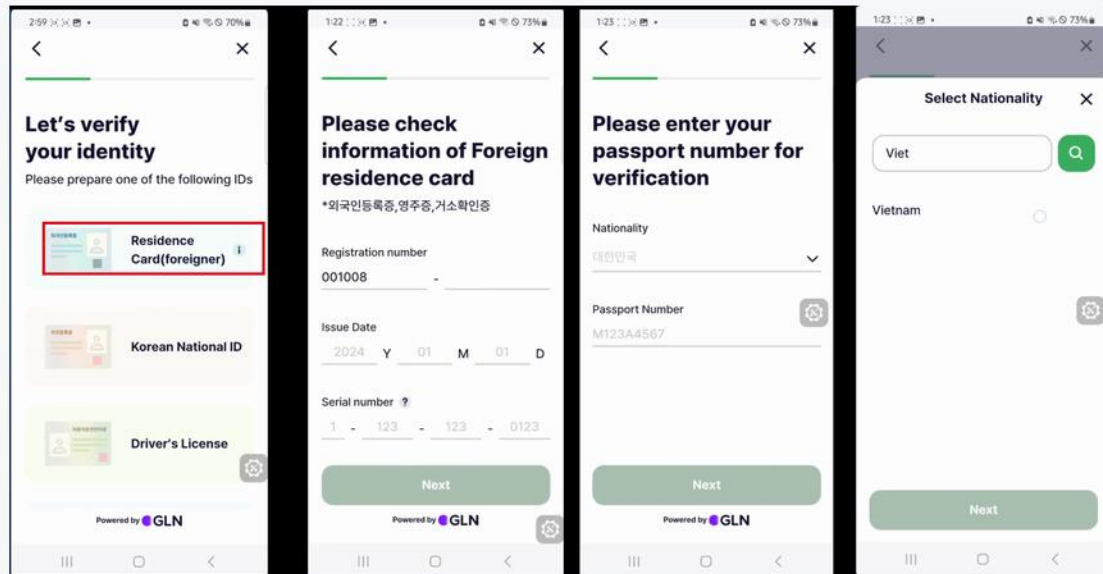

Identity Check

Follow the in-app instructions to upload your Korean ID information and personal details. Panda Remit works with GLN to support secure verification and compliance checks.

Operations note

- Use your own valid information. Keep ID photos clear, complete, and unobstructed.

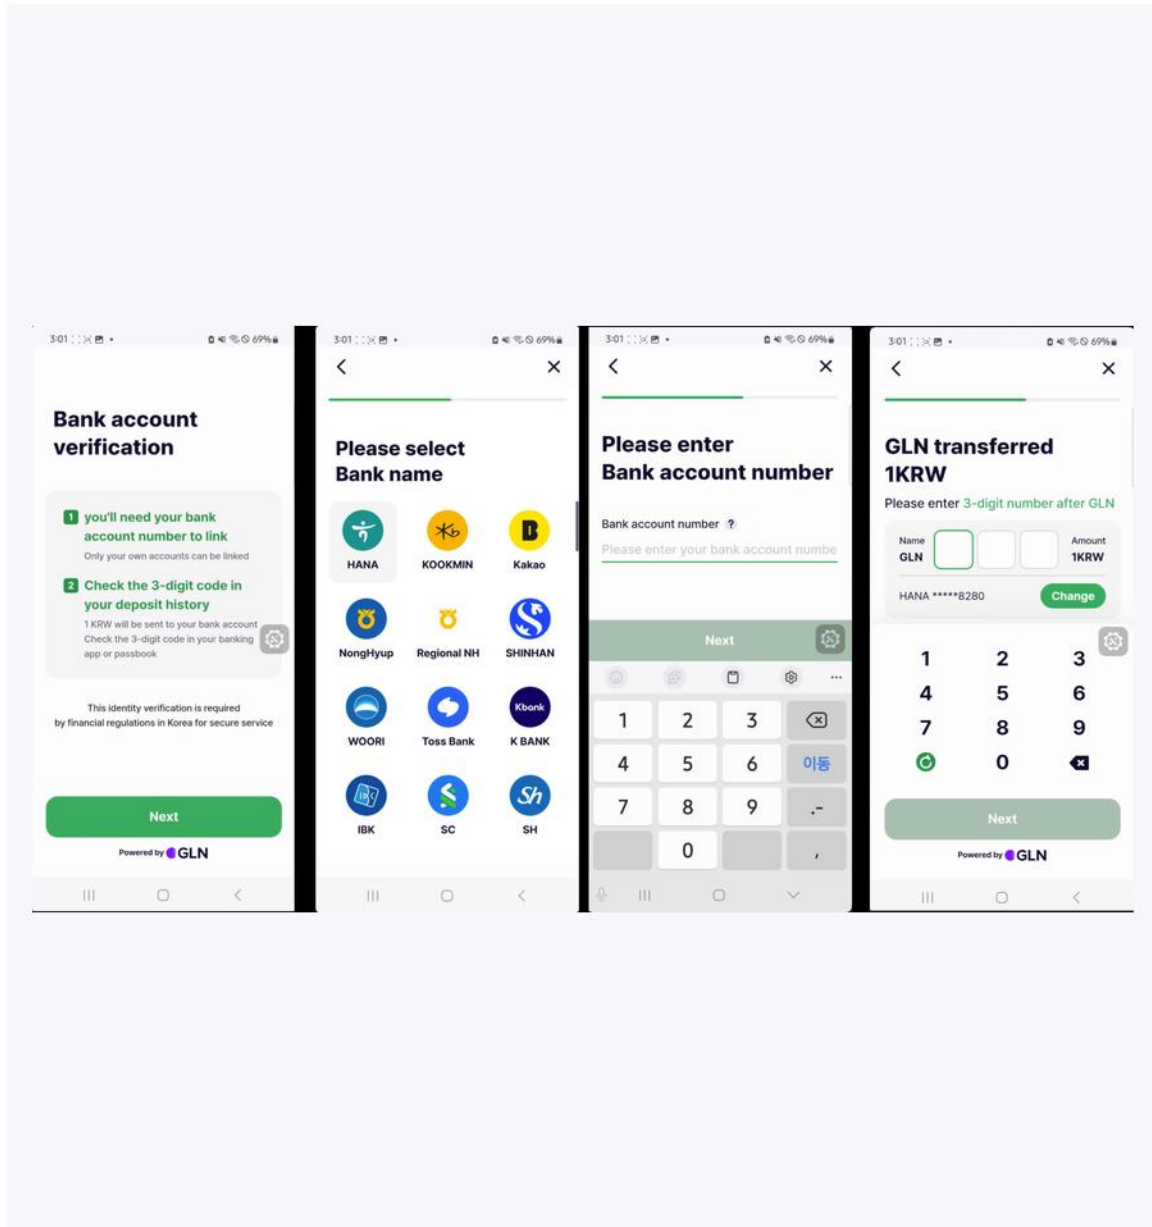

Profile Details

Continue following the on-screen instructions and carefully check your name, ID details, and contact information before submitting.

Operations note

- Incorrect or inconsistent information may cause verification failure or transfer delays.

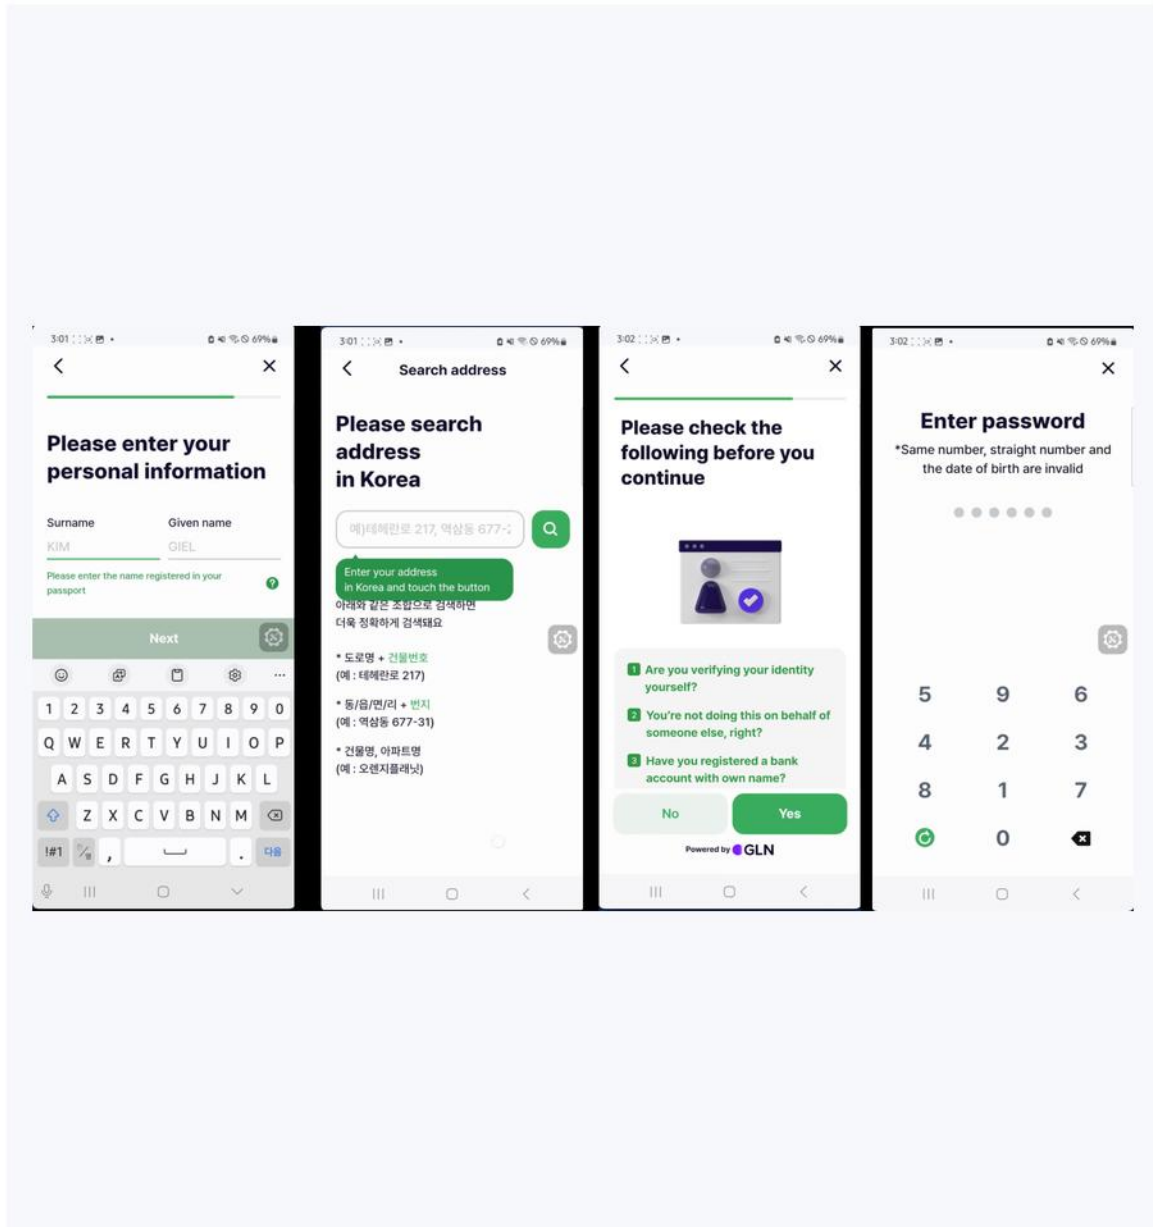

Payment Source

Connect your own Korean bank account and complete the 1 KRW verification. This account will be used as your payment source.

Operations note

- The source deck states that no fee applies for this verification. Always follow the latest information shown in the app.

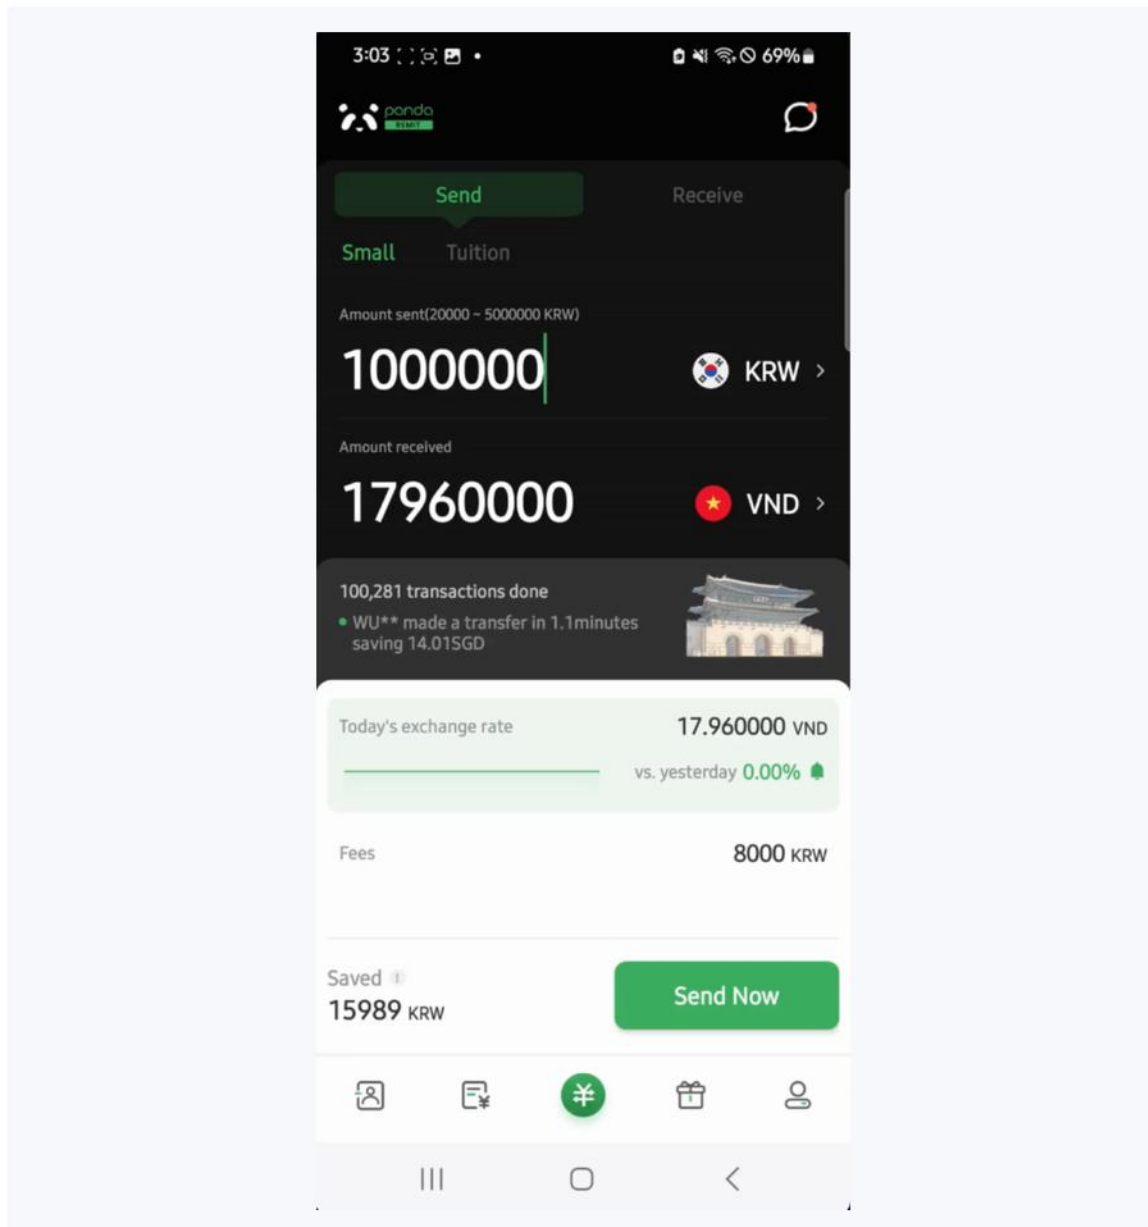

Final Setup

Set your payment password and complete address verification so your account is ready for payment authorization.

Operations note

- Keep your payment password private and never share it with anyone.

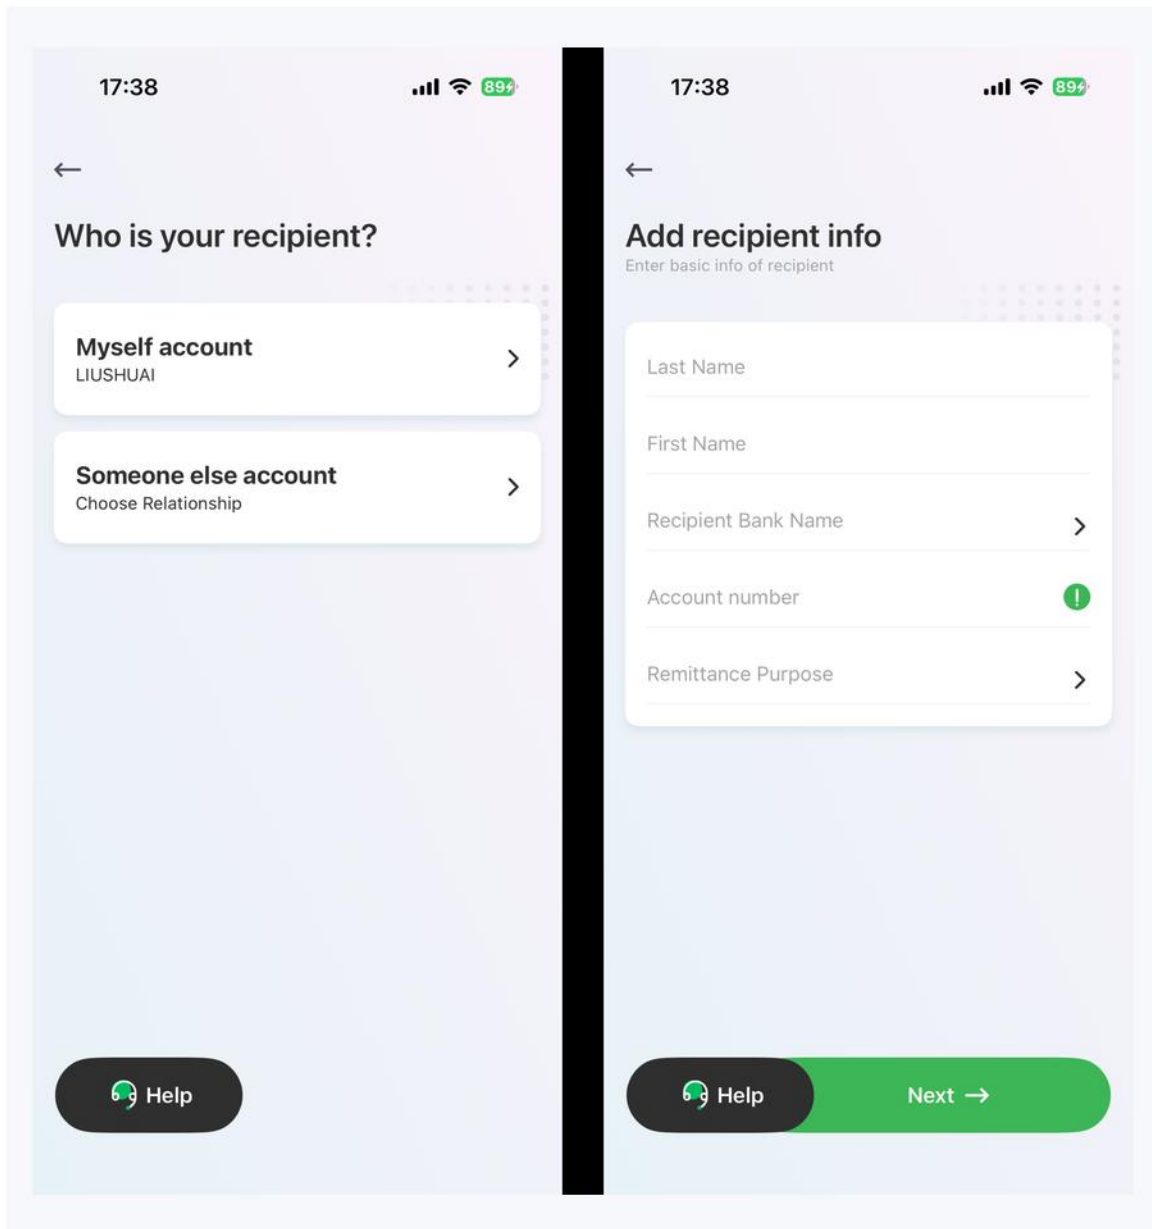

Rates and Fees

Choose the destination country or region and enter the transfer amount to review the exchange rate, receiving amount, and fee. Supported destinations include Vietnam, Indonesia, the Philippines, Thailand, Japan, the USA, Europe, and more.

Operations note

- Rates, fees, and available destinations may change. The actual details shown in the app at the time of order should be treated as final.

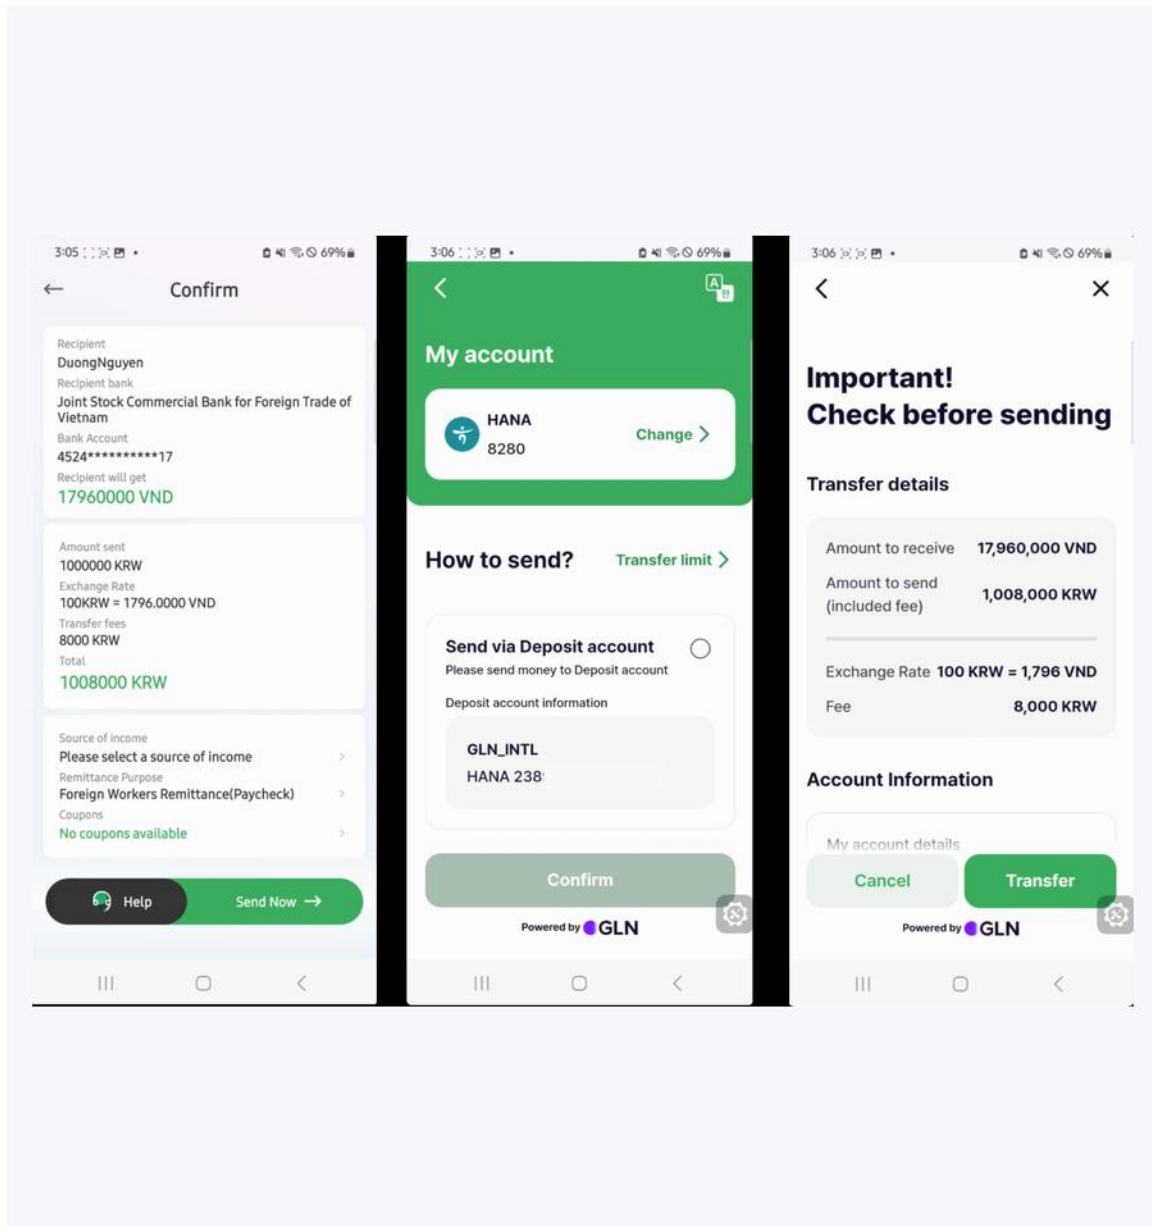

Create Order

Fill in the recipient's name, bank account, and other required details, then confirm everything before creating the transfer order.

Operations note

- Use the name format required by the receiving bank. Incorrect account details may cause rejection or delays.

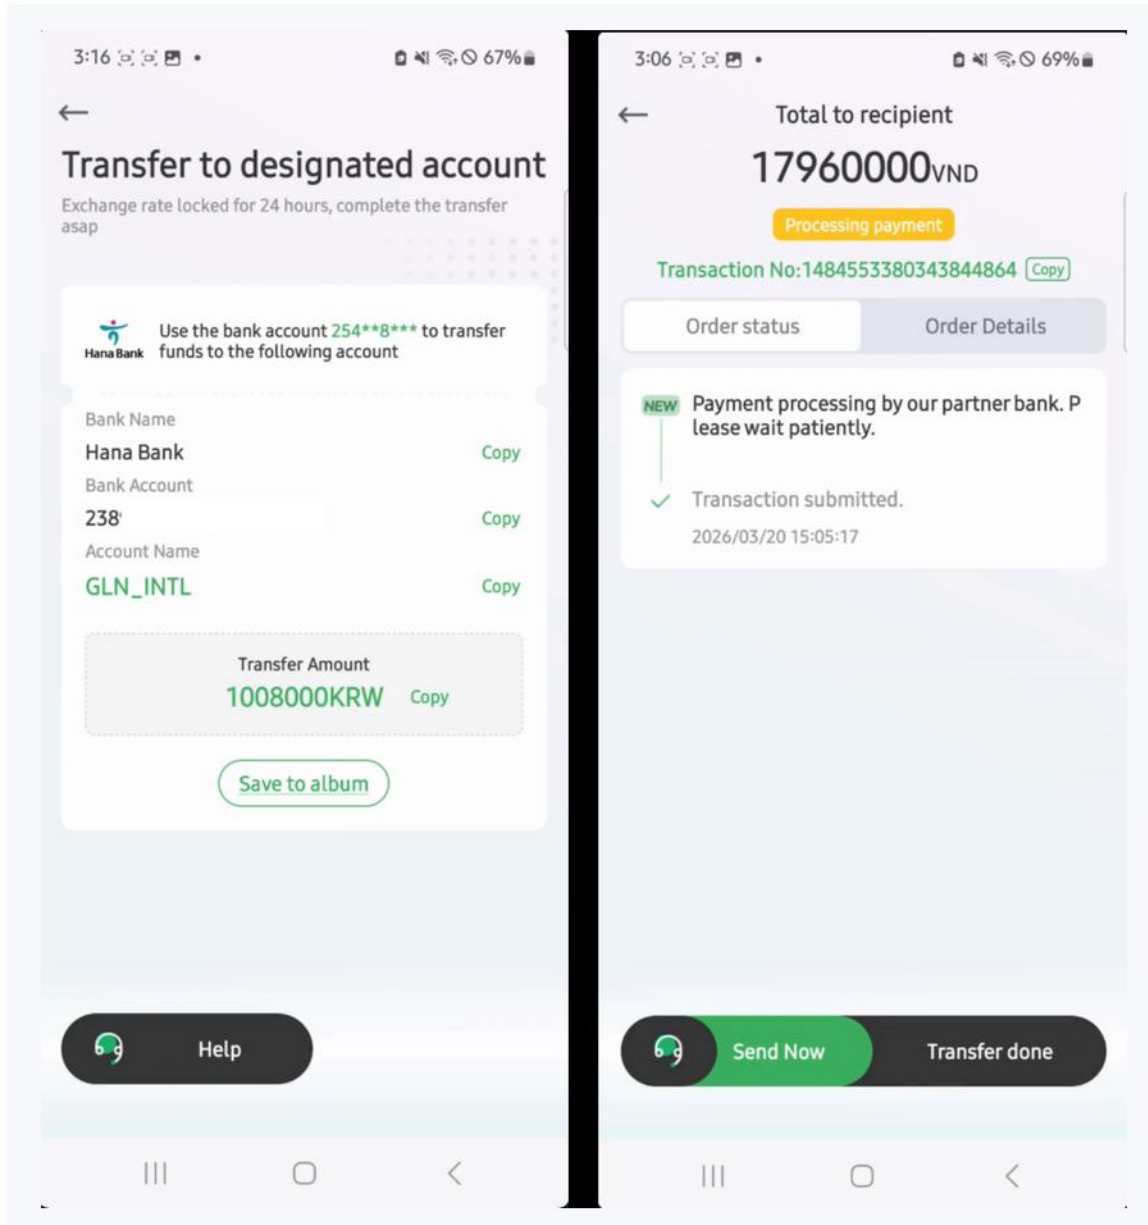

Payment

Complete the payment using your linked Korean bank account. After payment, you can check the order status and confirmation details in the app.

Operations note

- The source deck mentions that transfers usually arrive in 3–5 minutes. Actual delivery time depends on the corridor, bank systems, and risk review.

Completion

Once payment is confirmed, processing starts. Most transfers can complete quickly, but the final status should always be checked in the app.

Operations note

- If a transfer takes longer than expected, check the order status first and then contact Panda Remit support if needed.

Pre-Publishing Content Review

- All steps are based on the source PPTX: download, registration, KYC, bank account linking, payment security, exchange-rate review, order creation, payment, and completion.
- Claims such as “0 fees” and “3–5 minutes” were adjusted into safer operational wording: follow the app’s latest displayed fee, rate, and delivery-time information.
- First-time user reminders were added for Korean mobile number access, personal ID accuracy, clear ID photos, own bank account usage, recipient detail checks, and payment-password security.
- No extra promises were added regarding promotions, fixed rates, fixed fees, guaranteed delivery time, or guaranteed transfer success.
